As a group, we will select four of the above-listed titles, and the members will be assigned to read the books before the end of the session in June. At that point, we will rate each book according to their criteria, plot, theme, characters.

Each week the club has discussions on characters, plot, setting, themes and language. Some sample discussions: Do you think the characters were well developed? How well does the author describe the setting, and could you put yourself in that setting? Did the plot hold your attention? Did you notice the language that the author used? Were the themes meaningful to you?

One of the main goals for the Book Club is to develop students' opinions and thoughtful engagement with books.
