An independent, French-American bilingual school serving an international community of Maternelle-to-Middle School students in New York City’s Flatiron District.
At The École, we believe that the goal of education is to develop well-informed, well-rounded, responsible, and compassionate students who can create and connect to a world filled with possibilities. This belief is at the heart of our uniquely designed bilingual program, in which students learn not just to speak, read, and write in two languages but also to think, feel, and act in ways that are informed by two cultures. To see, explore, and understand the world around them from two perspectives is the gift of the deeply bi-literate student.

Artfully blending the curriculum requirements and pedagogical approaches of the French and American systems, our native-speaking faculty creates rich academic environments for a diverse, international student body. From Maternelle through Middle School, students at The École are guided through the core language arts, social studies, math, and science, as well as character and cultural enrichment, in both French and English. In our intimate classroom settings or out in New York City’s world-class artistic and historical institutions, our teachers provide individual and group bilingual learning opportunities that engage, challenge, and inspire.
The Benefits of our Bilingual Program

Agile minds. Open hearts. Bright futures. Beyond Bilingual
The Benefits of our Bilingual Program

Agile minds - The École’s bilingual program embraces and amplifies the flexibility and fluidity of developing minds, enhancing our young students’ innate ability to adapt to changing environments. Immersed, from Maternelle to Middle School, not just in two languages but in two educational systems, students at The École have the unique opportunity to learn two ways to approach every problem, no matter the subject, giving their growing learning muscles twice the exercise and twice the opportunity to understand. As they progress, they develop the confidence to select and apply the strategies that work best for them, whether in the classroom or out in the world.

Open hearts - Surrounded by classmates of wide-ranging nationalities, connected through their shared languages and cultures, students at The École develop an understanding of themselves and how they fit into the world—an understanding that is shaped by friends and families with experiences and perspectives other than their own. Through these personal connections, our students discover how differences make their world more interesting and rewarding and why empathy, respect, and integrity are so important. Together they learn to nurture in themselves and champion in others from the school community the character of truly caring global citizens.

Bright futures - From the first day of Maternelle until graduation from Middle School, we build our students’ excitement about, capacity for, independence in, and success at learning. During their time at The École, our students honor their achievements through French and American standardized tests, engage in activities that allow for personal growth, and map long-term educational plans. The strong high school placement and college admissions record of our alumni community is a source of great pride for us and proof that The École’s unique bilingual program prepares students to both flourish in and contribute to the world beyond our school.

Our High School program, developed in partnership with Léman Manhattan, is an extension of The École’s French-American dual curriculum and provides our students with a quasi-automatic enrolment pathway to one of the most prestigious international schools in NYC, whose students are accepted into top-tier universities every year. Students enrolled in the program have the benefit of all the resources Léman has to offer with the added advantage of electives taught in French by The École teachers in 9th and 10th Grade. In 11th and 12th Grade, the program transitions to a bilingual IB diploma program - one of the strongest college preparatory programs in the world.
